COCHITI!

Active Work Going on all Over the Camp.

MINES SHIPPING ORE.

PELONCA CANYON.

Pelonca Canyon, Cochiti District, Feb. 26. We in Pelonca canyon are happy, but to make us more so, give us a general store, a blacksmith shop a postoffice and mill.

About a dozen mines are being developed and are making a fine showing in here. There is a good opening for a store and smithshop, where miners could get their supplies and their tools sharpened. Pelonca canyon miners would patronize these institutions, and so would the Bear and La Jara canyon miners.

By the way, Bear and La Jara canyons are opening up some good mines, such as the Entessa, Bear Wave and others.

Cochiti all over is going to have a boom, something, this spring. People are beginning to see where the mineral is, and are leaving other camps and are making their way into old reliable Cochiti. With twelve new mills come in Pine and one in Cerro Gordo, and a bright prospect of the Denver & Rio Grande railway this summer, Cochiti will be a second Cripple Creek, or a better camp.

There will be three or four mines shipper going out from Cochiti each week. The new road from San Juan claims in the district that have done their assessment work for taxes, and are now doing 50% work. A great amount of development work will be done this year, and many shipping mines will be added to the present list.

Mining exchange in Albuquerque will add the camp very materially, as there are a great many mine owners who would like to do business in order to raise funds to develop their stock, and in a short time Cochiti stock would be in as good demand in the market as that of any camp known.

All Cochiti wants is a start, and up we will go and thousands of people will respond to the camp. We have the mineral and the mines, and all that is lacking is development, while some of the rest must be done. As it is now, we are struggling to keep above water, but we are determined to make the robbery right. So far ahead of us to come, via Los Oterillos and the stage line connecting made with all trains.

DE SOTO'S COUPON CHARTER.

St. Paul, Va., March 1, 1896.

We have a splendid sale of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and our customers coming from both ends of the country are buying in large quantities.

Many would like to know if their children would have died if Chamberlain's Cough Remedy had not been given. KIDNEY & URINARY FOR SALE by Dr. L. H. Burgess & Son.

WHAT CLEOPATRA HAS TAUGHT.

The exact cost of the present unmanly condition of national affairs will of course never be known. It is impossible to exactly estimate the cost of some things, and the expense of a mismanaged government is one of those things. But some of the expenses can be estimated. Thus, for instance, the bonded indebtedness can be placed at its exact figure and the interest at the same time the total of bonds and interest.

It is agreed by all parties even those who are making money by the sale of the bonds, that the only reason for selling the bonds is the unfavorable balance of trade against this country. It is, therefore, only honest and fair to charge the bonded debt against the advent of Clevelandism.

The four loans so far have amounted to $262,315,000, as follows:

Feb. 1, 1894. $10,000,000.
Nov. 1, 1894. $10,000,000.
Sept. 1, 1895. $10,000,000.
Oct. 1, 1895. $10,000,000.

Total. $40,000,000.

The two first issues are for ten years at 5 per cent, that means $500,000. In interest. The other two loans are at 4 per cent for thirty years, or $10,000,000. That makes the total of bonds and interest.

It is the population of the United States is $300,000,000 to-day, at the end of the ten years it may be $500,000,000, so that Clevelandism will have cost about six dollars per capita by that time. Every man with a family will have to contribute a dollar or two a year to the support of the gold-bugs.

J. W. FRETZ, Republic, Iowa, says: "I have used time Minnie Cough Cure in my family and for myself with results so entirely satisfactory that I can hardly find words to express myself as to its merit. I will never fail to recommend it to others, on every occasion that presents itself."
